

Vacancy

E-Commerce Fulfilment Internship @ Mujjo, in the Netherlands (fulltime)

Job description

As our E-Commerce Fulfilment intern, you will be in charge of managing and monitoring our E-commerce platform (mujjo.com) and all Marketplace platforms that we partner with (for example Etsy, Afound and Bol.com). You are the point of contact for our logistics Fulfilment partner; it is your task to guarantee that all orders are fulfilled on time, and all products on each platform are online with all the right information. You will learn to organise, communicate, and be responsible.

What you'll be doing

- Manage orders and ensure all shipments are fulfilled via our logistics fulfilment partner.
- Monitor and manage our e-commerce and marketplace listings.
- Coordinate with other team members to continue the high level of efficiency and effectiveness maintained by the Logistics department.
- Many other different tasks. Like any startup, all members of the team have a great deal of responsibility and a variety of tasks.

Who are we looking for?

We are looking for an intern who is independent, speaks English fluently, and is willing to help bring the Mujjo brand to the next level while learning valuable lessons about successful startups from its founders. If you can show exceptional prowess early on in your internship, this role can offer a heightened degree of autonomy, providing the right candidate the ability to be in control of E-Commerce and our logistics department; whilst also giving you a deeper insight into the wonderful world of business.

You are

- eager to learn;
- having a “hands-on” mentality and willingness to work hard;
- looking for an internship with responsibility;
- having great communication skills (in English);
- persistent in delivering a good job;
- always taking initiatives to drive the business forward;
- a college or university student;
- in love with our products.

Language skills

It's essential that you speak and write fluently in English. Any additional languages are welcome.

We offer something special!

Mujjo will be one of the most casual working environments you will ever experience. We demand a lot, but there is plenty for you in return. We operate as a small team and you will work directly with the founders – gaining first-hand insights into how to run a successful start-up company. You will be given an opportunity to develop yourself within the internship period through a diverse range of tasks. Like any start-up, all members of the team carry a lot of responsibility and work across many areas. You will be part of that team. In short, we believe this is a brilliant internship in which you will be given plenty of opportunities to grow and develop your entrepreneurial skills. We have a relaxed yet ambitious working environment, where fun and hard work go hand in hand. As Mujjo intern you will receive

Period

We prefer a minimum of 10 months. However, the longer, the better! A starting date in August is preferable as it will give you a chance to acquaint yourself with the environment, and learn from the current intern.

Interested?

Send your motivation letter and CV to tomcanters [at] mujjo.com. Don't forget to indicate in writing the exact period that you are available for the internship, the longer the better. Please be aware it is a requirement that the internship has to be part of a study program.

Who's eligible?

To be eligible for the internship, your nationality has to be part of the EU/EEA or Swiss. If your nationality is not part of the EU/EEA or Swiss but you study at a school/university in the Netherlands, you're still eligible.

Eligible examples:

- You study in London and hold an Irish passport
- You're a Chinese national and study in the Netherlands

Not eligible examples:

- You're a British national and study in London
- You're a US national and study in Germany

If you would like more information on which nationalities are part of the EU/EEA please see the following link:
