

Trainee Kitchen Designer & Sales Person

Dublin South

Full/part time €20k per annum

Trainee Kitchen Designer & Sales person based in our Deansgrange store.

Due to the successful expansion and growth to our business, an opportunity has arisen for an experienced Kitchen Designer to join our team.

About Us

Timbercraft is an established bespoke kitchen designer and retailer, with over 40 years in this market. Through innovative and creative design and planning, we provide a range of kitchens and associated products, set on today's market trends. Our impressive range of quality kitchen packages have been developed, using German engineering (NOBILIA), to incorporate the latest in kitchen design styles and to suit every budget.

The Role

The successful candidate will shadow the experienced Kitchen Designers and will be fully trained in the kitchen design and sales process. You will become involved in projects from conception to completion and will be expected to visit sites when necessary. We are looking for an articulate professional with excellent organisational and communication skills together with impressive design capabilities. Design qualifications are preferable and you must be able to deliver high levels of customer service.

The successful candidate will have the opportunity to receive training on our German Kitchen brand - Nobilia, which also involves annual trade trips to Germany.

About You

We are looking for a confident individual who has clear ambition to become a talented kitchen designer. It is important that you have high proficiency in windows 10 operating systems and I.T. along with the ability to learn and grasp a new design drawing package. All training will be provided. You must be a good sales person, with great communication skills and a pleasant persona.

If you believe that you have the skills required for this role, and will make a constructive contribution to the company and its future, please email your CV and cover letter to clare@timbercraft.ie.
